

From: DippyDawg6@aol.com@inetgw
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 11/17/01 2:49pm
Subject: (no subject)

To whom it may concern,

The purpose of this letter is to comment on the MS/DOJ settlement. I doubt that anyone will read this letter, but I feel obligated to write it regardless. It saddens me that we live in a government that can't handle a single corporation, where a company can so blatantly get away with criminal activities under the guise of "innovation". How can one have faith in a government to fight wars and protect us if they can't even deal with a single corporation? What Microsoft has done over the past 20 years is criminal, there's not even any reason to elaborate past that point, it's just given. At this point it's all politics who they can dig dirt up on and who they can pay off. It won't be too surprising if before long they start claiming that people who use free software are "terrorists." That seems to be the easiest thing to throw at the public to garner support. So, anyway, thanks for not reading this.

Disgustedly,

Me.